

Bibliography Worksheet

MLA Format (English)
Chicago Format (History)

Name:

Date:

Instructions: This worksheet is optional, but may help you to organize your information. Complete one worksheet for every source you choose to use; then format the information into the bibliography format (see your citation guide: A Student's Guide to History or A Pocket Style Manual). If you prefer, you may also enter information directly into a citation format tool, but always check with your citation guide.

Bibliography (not all items may be applicable):

1. Author(s) of article or chapter:
2. Title of article or chapter:
3. Author(s) or editor(s) of book:
4. Title of book or publication (call number if appropriate):
5. Place of publication:
6. Publisher or sponsoring organization (database name, if appropriate):
7. Publication or last revision date:
8. URL (internet address, if appropriate):
9. Pages used (for footnotes or endnotes):
10. Is this a primary or a secondary source? (Circle one)

Type of Source:

- | | |
|--|---|
| <input type="checkbox"/> Monograph | <input type="checkbox"/> Map or visual (chart, cartoon, drawing) |
| <input type="checkbox"/> General Studies | <input type="checkbox"/> Article from popular magazine or scholarly journal |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Textbook | <input type="checkbox"/> Other? List |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Historical/scholarly encyclopedia | _____ |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Website | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Historical/scholarly journal | |
| <input type="checkbox"/> Popular magazine | |

Bibliography Worksheet

MLA Format (English)

Chicago Format (History)

Name:

Date:

Notes or Annotation:

11. What information (pages, chapters) would you use from this source? What evidence do you have that this is a “good” source (author, publisher, date of publication)?